Sample RSO Constitution

Requirement for RSO’s
Every Registered Student Organization is required to have a current (within last 3 years) constitution on file with the Office of Student Activities. This constitution provides a structure for you to start with, but is not a constitution “template”.

Purpose of a Constitution
A constitution is the basic framework and guidelines for an organization. The constitution becomes the “governing document” for your RSO. This provides a means for your RSO’s oversight and accountability. Additionally, if mediation is required (such as a dispute about properly-elected officers), the Office of Student Activities will use your constitution in the mediation process. Your constitution should be a collaborative effort between your officers, members, and advisor, and should promote the long-term good of your organization.

Sample Registered Student Organization Constitution
This sample constitution is not a template; instead, it shows you the elements of a good constitution and a potential structure as a starting point. You can add or remove sections as needed to meet YOUR group’s unique needs.
